Jan Leisdal become elected as the chairman and secretary for the meeting.
(I have to do everything these days...)

4. Minutes from the meeting last year

Copies of the minutes were distributed among the participants.

Mike Roberts told us that the main problem with the meeting last year were the location of the meeting, 600 miles away from Mike Roberts hometown). A good advice to each and everyone who wants to organize the meeting in the future will be – organize it in your own hometown!

Mike asked for a second opportunity, he wish to organize the meeting in Liverpool in the year 2008.

5. NoMe 2004 Riga

Ariko Gulbis distributed the programme and costs (already).

The main discussion were regarding the dates for the event, but finally we agreed upon Thursday the 1st until Sunday the 4th of July 2004.

6. NoMe 2005

The one and only candidate for the NoMe 2005 Ghent, Belgium, become elected unanimously.

7. Officials of NoMe

Ariko Gulbis become elected as the new president and convenor of NoMe 2004.

Jean De Brauer become elected as the new vice president and convenor of NoMe 2005.

As the past president, Jan Leisdal, will provide Ariko with an updated mailing list.

8. NoMe members

At the moment the mailing list consist of 53 names of former members of national boards within Round Table. Together with wives/partners approx 100 people, the group is probably big enough.

If someone in the the group change his address, phone number, e-mail address, wife etc he must send his new details, if possible, to each and everyone. At least he must inform the president for the time being.

9. Other matters

John Reinerie expressed his thankfulness to Jan Leisdal for organizing the NoMe this year and for being the chairman of the meeting.

He handed over a little gift with the exhortation: "roll that dice...."

Ariko Gulbis kindly asked each and everyone to come to Riga next year and handed over a bottle of Balsam to Jan Leisdal. (Whether it is supposed to be used for internal or for outward application he never said)

Jan Leisdal were extremely obliged that so many had come to Helsingborg and to the NoMe 2003 and conclude the official meeting by wishing Ariko good luck for the next year!

Jan Leisdal
